DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-17 and 24, drawn to a lamp assembly, classified in class 362, subclass 226.
 - II. Claims 18-23, drawn to a method of making a lamp assembly, classified in class 445, subclass 24.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the process as claimed can be used to make a different product such as the process of making can make a materially different apparatus where the molded lens does not encapsulate the circuit board.

3. During a telephone conversation with Lionel Lucchesi on September 24, 2001 a provisional election was made without traverse to prosecute the invention of Lamke et al, claims 1-17 and 24. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 18-23 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

5. Claims 1,2,9,11 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Bedrosian et al (6,276,822).

6. Bedrosian discloses a support circuit board (22); a plurality of light emitting diodes mounted to said circuit board (24); an electrical connection attached to said circuit board and extending outwardly of said lamp assembly (30); a mold in place lens material encapsulating the circuit board and light emitting diodes (12), and formed to provide a predetermined shape for said lens assembly, said electrical connection extending outwardly of said lens assembly (fig 2), the LEDS are positioned and arranged in rows and columns (fig 2),

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 3-8 and 12-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bedrosian et al as applied to claim 1 and in further view of Hutchisson (5,325,271).

Art Unit: 2875

9. Hutchison discloses LED emitting a light having a different color from at least another LED. IT would have been obvious to tone of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have a set of LED's emitting different colors from one another, for such a practice is old and well known in the art as a matter of design choice (please see Hutchison). With regards to a plurality of LED's emitting a different color from another plurality of LED's (in this case specified as "rows"), it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to do so, since it has been held that mere duplication of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art. St. Regis Paper Co. v. Bemis Co., 193 USPQ 8.

10. With regards to the lens having a color associated with it (please see Berg). It would have been obvious to tone of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to color the lens, since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for its intended use. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.

11. With regards to the lens withstanding at least 30lb of force/in² without damage. It would have been obvious to tone of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have such a force withstanding lens, for such lamp covers or lenses are well known in the art for their use in illuminating hazardous environments and to promote longevity of the lens.

Conclusion

12. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Berg and Schaffer.
